RESIDENT WINS AGAIN.*aces Railroad Men to Accept His Terms.thwestern Lines May Advance Freight Rates.mission Will Have Busy Time With Hearings.DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The railroad presidents went to Washington to convince the administration that it ought to conform to their ideas of justice. They the President and capitulated to without scoring a point.

President Taft, according to one there, met them cordially but firmly. He was absolutely uncompromising. He told them that they did accept his terms or that he'd see the cases through to the end. They found that he was adamant and they gave in. It hurt them to it, but they took their medicine as gracefully as possible and home.

As soon as the new railroad law goes into effect, the Senate and railroad commissioners will demand advanced rates in the Middle West territory and those filed by eastern lines will be presented again to commission. It is believed that advanced rates will be submitted for the Southwestern territory, even the Mississippi and Pacific in Interstate Commerce Commission will alone suspend the operation and set dates for hearings giving notice to shippers, commercial organizations and the roads several months in time for protest evidence to be presented. Probably a commissioner will have a group of schedules assigned to him so the entire country will be covered at the same time, thus facilitating the hearings.

Even now is the maximum time which any proposed advance in rates may be considered by the commission. Members of the commission, ever, believe that they will not necessary to avail themselves the maximum time.

Meeting will probably be held in place in September, and date will be rendered on some of cases during the succeeding sixty days. Decisions on those cases affecting the territory between the Pacific and the Mississippi River will be made in the most important cases, the others, I think, may be the commission, which will probably be decided within the next two weeks, are western cases, particularly those affecting Reno, Sacramento, Spokane, Salt Lake, Ogallala and adjacent areas. Should the commission's decisions in these cases, they will file advances, and thus much of prospective work of the commission will be eliminated.

REGULAR REPUBLICANS WIN AFTER FIGHT.ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT:

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The flurry railroad situation became a of the past today. The railroad presidents went home; President Taft left horseback riding, and the rail bill went to conference.

Representatives of the eastern railroads, at a conference with the railroads of the South declared they had not as yet received notices of what they would do if they were ready to abide by the decision of the commission.

At the Capitol, things were not so pleasant. President Taft sent a special message to Congress telling of his negotiations with the railroads and urging the action of the railroad bill that gives commission power to investigate and suspend new rates made effective immediately upon the signing of the act, rather than have it go into effect along with the other rates, which have a sixty-day limitation.

"SQUARE DEAL" PROMISED.

The President did this in the hope of agreement with the railroads, by which he promised them a "square deal" and a speedy determination as to the justice of their new rates. He did it to prevent the filing of any new rates during the sixty days between the signing of the act and its effect.

There was a bitter fight in the Senate as to whether the Senate amendments should be accepted as a whole or the measure should go to conference. The insurgents and Democrats who were opposed to a conference demanded the President's wishes be met in an amendment on the part of the House. The regulars who voted to have the bill sent to conference, for a "smoothing-out" procedure, declared that the only way to get the President's wishes was to let the bill go to conference. They also voted by six votes to one.

President Taft decided to commit himself in his message or in conference with Senate and House leaders, to the necessity of a conference, merely expressed the wish indication that he would let it to conference to determine the best means of getting this wish.

CONFERENCE OF OFFICIALS.

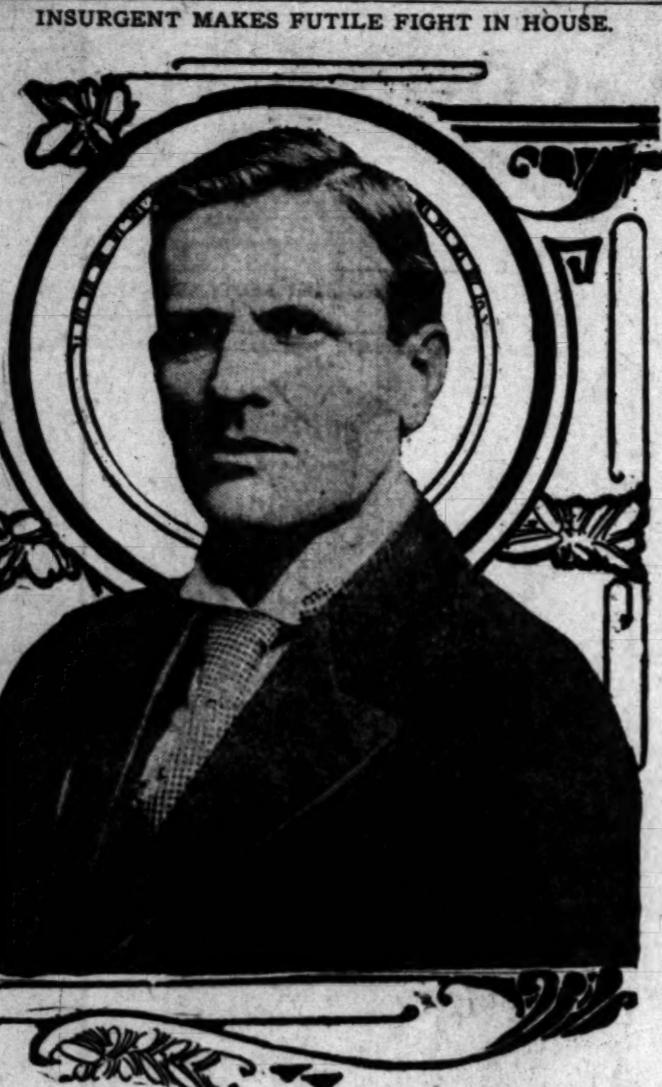

The President's conference today was with President McCrea of the Pennsylvania; President Brown, of the New York Central, and President Finley of Southern Railroads.

These gentlemen represented all the tank lines from Chicago eastward. It is taken for granted before the conference began that there would be an amicable settlement, and there was little surprise when, after an hour and half, the statement was issued that there had been a complete agreement.

In none of the new rates has railroad president has President Taft asserted that there was any purpose the part of the administration to only for a dissolution of the various tank line associations.

At the same time there have been intimations that any of the railroads would be granted immunity from the operations of the Sherman antitrust law.

The administration used the antitrust law in bringing the injunction

Irvine L. Lenroot,

Wisconsin insurgent, who yesterday tried in vain to force regular Republicans to adopt Senate amendments to railroad bill.

RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE OF THE ARKANSAS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION tonight adopted a platform for the party for the coming two years. There was no contest on any sections prepared by the administration but those pertaining to initiative and referendum and the liquor question and both of these blanks went through without changes. The administration plan regarding liquor which was adopted states that the initiative and referendum constitutional amendment if adopted would care for the liquor question.

Other resolutions adopted declare against the trusts and the tariff fostered by them, opposes issuance of bonds to any but employees, their families, and proposes demands gambling upon agricultural commodities, endorses the initiative and referendum.

A striking feature of the convention was the return of many well-known politicians from various sections of the state who were retired to private life but six years ago when Jeff Davis began to rule the state. The Senator occupied a seat during the entire session today but did not have one word to say or a suggestion to make. The convention was distinctively anti-Davis.

Former Senator James H. Berry was unanimously invited to occupy a seat on the platform. While he was being escorted to the platform the man in the audience, according to Senator Jeff Davis, who defeated Berry four years ago, arose and cheered him. Berry wept as he thanked the delegation.

Gov. George W. Donaghay was re-nominated by acclamation. The State officers selected in the March primaries were declared the nominees of the Arkansas Democratic Convention.

The Senate conferees are Elkins of West Virginia, Aldrich of Rhode Island, and Republicans, and Foster of Louisiana, Democrat.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS.—

Not a little surprise was occasioned by the loss of six Democratic votes, and much speculation as to the cause resulted.

It was pointed out that four of the Democrats were so-called Tammany representatives from New York, Fitzgerald, Harrison, Gould and Hodges. The other two were Underwood of Alabama, one of the Democratic leaders, and Craig of Alabama.

The list of insurgent Republicans who voted with the regular Republicans against the Senate bill, was also subjected to scrutiny, and their attitude was the cause of much comment.

President Taft recommended the changes in the Senate bill proposed by Mr. Lenroot in a meeting of congressional leaders, and Craig of Alabama.

Reports received here up to 11 p.m., however, give Egan a clear lead.

Mitchell City gave Egan as many votes as his two opponents combined received.

The city of Yankton gave Egan a plurality of six votes, and Yankton county, with two precincts missing, gave Egan 566, Vosey 535, and Elrod 94.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN FLORIDA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) June 7.—Returns tonight indicate that Broward has gained in the Democratic Senatorial primary over Senator Talliaferro, compared with the first primary. His followers claim victory by 2,000. The Talliaferro faction also claims victory.

Twenty-one insurgents rallied to the support of the motion. They are: Captain Clegg, Dugan, Kopp, Larson, Root and Morse, and Davis of Wisconsin, Nelson and Lindburgh of Minnesota, Fish of New York, Gronna of North Dakota, Haughen, Hubbard, Johnson, and Woods of Iowa, Kinckaid, Hinshaw, and Woods of Nebraska, Poindexter of Washington, and Madison and Murdock of Kansas.

In opposing the adoption of the Senate amendments and favoring the continuation of the Railroad Bill to conference, Mr. Mann of Illinois, who had charge of the measure in the House, declared that the Senate bill was full of errors. He said there was strong objection to the amendment giving shippers the right to recover damages for railroads for breaking rates, asserting it would permit the granting of rebates.

Announcing that he did not favor the Senate bill in its entirety, Minority Leader Clark said he thought it was a better bill than would be given the country if the members wanted to confer and therefore he favored accepting the Senate amendments.

INSURGENT MAKES FUTILE FIGHT IN HOUSE.SIXTY-FIRST CONGRESS.ACCUSATIONS REACH SENATE.(Continued From First Page.)*Formal Charges Against Lorimer Made.*Referred to Committee for Investigation.Long Document Read Only in Part.[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON. June 7.—Formal charges against Senator William Lorimer of Illinois, were laid before the Senate this afternoon by his colleague, Senator Culom. The proceeding was the presentation of a memorial by Clifford W. Barnes of Chicago, president of the Illinois Legislative Votes League, embodying the charges of bribery of members of the Illinois Legislature. The memorial was read only in part and was referred without comment to the committee on privileges and elections.

Senator Culom offered the memorial without comment and the reading was begun by the clerk. It had proceeded but a few minutes when Senator Borah entered the chamber and inquired what was being read. Senator Culom explained and then, by his consent, the matter was referred without further reading.

SENATOR CULOM OFFERED THE MEMORIAL WITHOUT COMMENT AND THE READING WAS BEGUN BY THE CLERK. IT HAD PROCEEDED BUT A FEW MINUTES WHEN SENATOR BORAH ENTERED THE CHAMBER AND INQUIRED WHAT WAS BEING READ. SENATOR CULOM EXPLAINED AND THEN, BY HIS CONSENT, THE MATTER WAS REFERRED WITHOUT FURTHER READING.

It is believed many shepherds have fallen to their fate with their flocks. The damage in Sardinia is estimated at $2,000,000.

The Pope was notified by the Bishop of Avelino of the suffering in the province and forwarded funds for relief.

There were few people in the Senate chamber or in the galleries, in marked contrast with the scenes of intense excitement when Senator Lorimer made his bitter speech ten days ago. He was not present.

The Borah memorial is a long document embodying the confessions of White and Holstail that they were bribed to vote for Lorimer; the bribery indictment against Lee O'Neill Browne; and otherwise summarize the allegations heretofore published as affecting Lorimer's election.

The Borah memorial now places formal charges before the committee, and a basis of action, which it has not had before.

Many members of the Senate say that even with the submission of the confession of White and the indictment against Lee O'Neill Browne, the Senate still lacks definite charges connecting Senator Lorimer with the paying of bribes.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House refused to send the rules and pass Congress Smith's substitute for the bill passed by the Senate for the relief of settlers of the Imperial Valley, where there had been fraud on part of the original entrants, but the assignees had proved up in faith.

Now Smith will try again to get before the House in order to have passed. It seems that there was no understanding by the members regarding the intent of the bill.

Martin of South Dakota said it made "to give relief to fraudulent ones."

It is the part of the men who had saved the land. Martin complained it did not apply to specific cases, and said he had received a printed bill against the bill from R. C. Noland, of the San Joaquin, and suggested the bill should apply only to the general country.

He tried to make the amendment but the House refused to let it still come up.

"I have not lost hope," said Smith, though this sets us back. I'll try again.

NEW YORK, June 7.—It became known today that Walter A. Fitch, an artist, who died last night in a hospital in Greenport, L. I., committed suicide.

Fitch lived in Cos Cob, Ct. His mother, a wealthy resident of Pasadena, Cal., had been visiting him for eight months, returning East only a short time ago. He had been in poor health for some time, and went to Greenport for the summer. Yesterday bought a revolver and shot himself, after leaving notes for his wife and their, asking their forgiveness.

INSANE AT PASADENA.
ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PASADENA, June 7.—Walter A. Fitch was well known in Pasadena, was a son of Mr. William Grant Fitch, an elderly widow of Milwaukee, who has made her winter home there for many years. Two years ago bought a beautiful home in Pasadena, so that his son and his friends might be near him.

Fitch was a wealthy business man and some time postmaster of Milwaukee. Accompanied by his wife and two children, Fitch came to Pasadena last week. His health was failing and gradually began to lose his mind. He was more and extremely reticent, imagined everyone was trying to get him out of his money. He stated his best friends were his worst enemies.

Recently, last March, while telling his stories to a group of loafers at a burlesque grocery store, Fitch became silently insane and had to be carried home. He was taken to a local sanatorium and later to Greenport. His wife sold all her property and went to live at the Virginia Hotel at Long Beach.

Health Philadelphian Offers Large Reward for Recovery and Arrest of Kidnapper—Suspects Italian Adventurer Was Attracted by Her Jewels. She Unable to Solve Mystery.

IT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grief-stricken over disappearance of his 17-year-old daughter, Elisabeth, and furious over suspicion that she was lured away an Italian adventurer. Hugh Ross, a wealthy harness manufacturer offered $10,000 reward for the recovery of the girl and the arrest of man suspected of having enticed her home.

According to Rodgers, the girl had $300 worth of jewelry when she disappeared. He believes she was away for the sake of the jeweler, although she is described as attractive, and that she has been or abandoned by the supposed in the case. The jewelry is described as a diamond studded watch $2000; a diamond ring worth $500 and a locket.

LOVED IN LOS ANGELES.

Audrey Tifford of Ely Becomes the Bride of Harry Trobes of Ogden.

IT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A love match, which began two years ago, was culminated last night when Miss Audrey of Ely was married in Ogden to Harry Trobes at the home of the man's parents. Mr. Trobes arrived Tuesday night to meet his bride company with Miss Tifford yesterday morning where the marriage ceremony was performed.

About two years ago, Miss Tifford was spending his vacation in that city as the guest of his parents who were attending school in Los Angeles and was staying with Trobes family at that time. Mr. Trobes is connected with the Ogden Railway Company. The bride daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Trobes, was born and raised here in this State. She is well among the pioneer residents of and joined in the loud-lunged hurrahs of the younger element.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Chancellor of Oxford, in introducing the newly created D.C.L., who appeared for the first time in the red robes of the doctorate, spoke of Mr. Roosevelt as "a ruler of men—the most conspicuous figure in America since Abraham Lincoln."

After touching on the former President's many achievements, the Chancellor said:

"Although he is now taking holiday, it is undreamable that such a man will long remain out of public life."

LUNCHEONS WITH AMERICANS.

Following the lecture, Mr. Roosevelt and 150 Americans, including all the Rhodes scholars, lunched together. F. P. Griffith presided, and introduced the ex-President, who expressed the appreciation of all Americans for the great gift of Cecil Rhodes, and for the hospitality of the university.

Ambassador Whitelaw Reid proposed a toast to the King and to the President. Speeches were made by several Rhodes scholars. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt dined with the vice-chancellor of the university, and remained at his residence for the night.

Cabins have been engaged for the Roosevelt party on the steamer Kai-sarin Auguste Victoria, which will sail from Southampton June 19, for New York.

ROOSEVELT'S ADDRESS TO OXFORD STUDENTS.

Col. Roosevelt said: "Home fell by attack from without, only because the life within her own borders had grown incurable. What is true of your country, my hearers, is true of my own; while we should be vigilant against foes from without, yet we need never really fear them so long as we safeguard ourselves against the enemies within our own households; and these enemies are our own passions and foibles. Free scope can escape being mastered by others only by being able to master themselves."

"We Americans, and you people of the British Isles alike, need ever to keep in mind that, among the many qualities indispensable to the success of a great democracy, and indeed only a high and stern sense of duty of moral imperials, are self-knowledge and self-mastery. You, my hosts, and I may not agree in all our views; some of you would think me a very radical democrat—as, for the matter of that, am I—and my thoughts would be somewhat similar with the anti-imperialists as little as it would suit a certain type of forcible-feebble imperialist. But there are some points on which we must all agree if we think soundly."

"The precise form of government, democratic or otherwise, is the instrument, the tool, the weapon which it is important to have a good tool. But, even if it is the best possible, it is only a tool. No implement can ever take the place of the guiding intelligence that wields it. A very bad tool will ruin the work of the best craftsman; but a good tool, no bad hand is no better."

In the last analysis the all-important factor in national greatness is national character.

GREAT QUESTIONS.

"There are questions that we of the great civilized nations are ever tempted to ask of the future. Is our time of growth drawing to an end? Are we as nations soon to come under the rule of that great law of death which is itself, but part of the great law of life? None can tell us, but we know that other forces that are hidden or that can but dimly be apprehended are at work all around us, both for good and for evil."

"The growth in luxury, in love of ease, in taste for rapid and frivolous expenditure, is with us and with us.

The most ominous sign is the diminution in the birth-rate, and the rate of natural increase, how to a larger or lesser degree shared by most of the civilized nations of Central and Western Europe, of America and Australia; a diminution so great, that it cannot be denied that in the next century, at least, which has obtained for the last twenty-five years, all the more highly civilized peoples will be stationary or else have begun to go backward in population, while many of them will have already gone far backward."

"It is a question that should concern us all for the future. But there is much also which should give us hope. No man is more apt to be mistaken than the prophet of evil. After the French Revolution in 1830, Niebuhr hazard the guess that all civilization about to be destroyed, and that the fall of third and fourth century Rome, a respectable but painfully overworked comparison. The fears once expressed by the followers of Malthus as to the future of the world have proved groundless as regards the civilized portion of the world; it is strange indeed to look back at Carlyle's prophecies of some seventy years ago, and then think of the teeming life of achievement, the life of conquest of every kind, and of noble effort crowned by success, which has been made for the two thousand years since he complained to the high heaven that all the tales had been told and all the songs sung, and that all the deeds really worth doing, had been done.

"I believe with all my heart that a great future remains for us; whether the door is open or closed, our duty is not altered. However the battle may go, the soldier worthy of the name will with utmost vigor do his allotted task, and bear himself as valiantly in defeat as in victory."

"Come what may we belong to people who have not yielded to the unending fear of being great. In the ages that have gone by, the great nations, the nations that have expanded and that have played a mighty part in the world, have in the end grown old and weakened and vanished; but so have the nations two thousand years ago, who would risk nothing, and who therefore gained nothing. In the end the same fate may overwhelm all alike; but the mind of one type perishes with it, while the other leaves its mark deep on the history of all the future of mankind."

A NATION'S INFLUENCE.

"A nation that seemingly dies may be born again; and even though in the physical sense it die utterly, it may yet hand down a history of heroic achievement, and for all time to come may profoundly influence the nations that come in its wake by the impress of what it has done. See how it is to do our part well, and at the same time to see our blood live young and vital in men and women fit to take up the task as we lay it down; for so shall our seed inherit the earth."

"But the torch of which we bear, is denied us; and at least it is ours to remember that if we choose we can be torch-bearers, as our fathers were before us. The torch has been handed down from nation to nation, from civilization to civilization, throughout all recorded time, from the dim days before history dawned, down to the blazing splendor of this teeming century of ours."

Mr. Trobes was attending school in Los Angeles and was staying with Trobes family at that time. Mr. Trobes is connected with the Ogden Railway Company. The bride daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Trobes, was born and raised here in this State. She is well among the pioneer residents of only by those who were mighty of heart and cunning of hand. What they worked at, providing it was worth doing at all, was of less matter than how they worked, whether in the realm of the mind, or in the realm of the body. If their work was good, if what they achieved was of substance, then high success was really theirs.

"While freely admitting all of our follies and weaknesses of today, it is not mere perversity to refuse to realize the inevitable advances that have made in ethical standards. I do not believe that there is the slightest necessary connection between any weakening of virile force and this advance in the moral standard, this growth of the sense of obligation to one's neighbor and of reluctance to do the neighbor wrong. We need have scant suspicion that that silliness cynicism which insists that kindness of character only accompanies weakness of character."

"On the contrary just as in private life, many of the men of loftiest and most exalted morality, so I believe that in national life as the ages go by we shall find that the permanent national character of a State, and more tend toward virtue in which, while the intellect stands high, character stands high, rugged strength and courage, rugged capacity to resist wrong, aggression by others, will go hand in hand with a lofty score of moral and spiritual excellencies."

"This is the type of Timson, of Hampden, of Washington and Lincoln. These were good men, as disinterested and unselfish men, as ever served a State; and they were also as strong and as ever fought for or saved a State. Surely such examples prove that there is nothing in our efforts in our defense of right which bids us treat alien races only as subjects for exploitation."

"No hard and fast rule can be drawn as applying to all alien races, because they differ from one another far more widely than some of us differ from others."

But there are one or two rules homes across the seas, and the Americans, both at home and abroad, are brought into contact with utterly alien peoples, some with a civilization more ancient than our own, others still in, or having but recently arisen from, the barbarism which once reigned beyond our shores. The problems that arise are of well-nigh inconceivable difficulty. They cannot be solved by the foolish sentimentalities of stay-at-home people, with little patent recipes, and those cut-and-dried theories of the political nursery which have such limited applicability amid the crash of elemental forces. Neither can they be solved by the raw brutality of the men who, whether at home or on the rough frontier of civilization, always cling to the only standard of right in dealing with other men, and treat alien races only as subjects for exploitation."

"No hard and fast rule can be drawn as applying to all alien races, because they differ from one another far more widely than some of us differ from others."

But there are one or two rules

"In the long run, there can be no justification for one race managing or controlling another unless the management and control are exercised in the interest of the welfare of that race. This is what our peoples have in the main done, and must continue to do, in India, Egypt and the Philippines alike."

"In the next place, as regards abroad, every where, every form of abroad, we must find the permanent national character of a State, and more tend toward virtue in which, while the intellect stands high, character stands high, rugged strength and courage, rugged capacity to resist wrong, aggression by others, will go hand in hand with a lofty score of moral and spiritual excellencies."

SENSATIONAL.

SEVEN SHERIFFS JOIN IN THRILLING CHASE.

Southern California Officers and Posse, With Bloodhounds, Go Into Mountains in Pursuit of Jail Breakers Accused of Slaying Watchman.

A SENSATIONAL man-hunt, rivaling in excitement the annals of early criminal history of the West, is in progress in the mountains of San Luis Obispo county. Sheriffs and their posse from seven counties have joined in running to earth two desperadoes who will not submit to arrest without bloodshed, unless they can be disarmed by strategy.

The objects of the systematic search are John Hodnutt and John Harrison, ex-convicts, who on last Thursday broke from the San Luis Obispo jail, where they were confined on charges of murder.

Information that Hodnutt was seen Monday at Pozo caused a call to be sent to all officials in Southern California to assist in running the bad men to earth. It was responded to by seven sheriffs, who hastened toward the stronghold of the fugitives in the mountains, gathering posses on the way.

The officers spread a net yesterday from which they made it impossible for the fugitives to escape and assist in tracking the men to their mountain fortress in the mountains, bloodhounds were turned loose. They are followed in automobiles loaded with heavily-armed men. It is believed the exact location of the escaped prisoners will be discovered within a few hours.

HARD FIGHT IN SIGHT.

The officers are certain that the fugitives can be taken only after a battle. Accomplices who assisted in the jailbreak have undoubtedly armed themselves with modern and powerful weapons and an attack on them will require bravery, as it is more than likely that some one will be shot. The fugitives have no place of safety, as their hiding place and could hold out against half a dozen times their number with ease. It is likely that their friends have also furnished them with food, so it will not be easy to starve them out.

Sheriff Nancy McFadden, who has a reputation as a fighter, is leading the chase. He will brook no delay once he has located his prey. He is not lacking in courage to storm them in ambush, or wherever they may be found. The other leaders of posses are Sheriff Hammel of Los Angeles, Sheriff Nat Stuart of Santa Barbara, Sheriff E. G. McMartin of Ventura, Sheriff J. W. Kelly of Kern county, Sheriff C. Bucker of Kings county and W. J. Nesbitt of Monterey county.

John Rude, a night watchman at Paso Robles, was shot to death on the night of March 16, last. Hodnutt and Harrison were immediately suspected, as clews which pointed to them remained at the building which Rude was guarding from burglars.

THEIR FIRST FLIGHT.

Sheriff McFadden started in pursuit. The men took to the mountains. The officer followed them with a large posse. For days they kept the trail of the pair. The pursuers suffered almost unbearable hardships in the coldness of the hills. Not until they had approached the place where McFadden is certain the men are hiding.

From all sides the officers are pouring into the mountains. They spread out in a large circle and are gradually narrowing it down. Each man is supplied with high-power firearms and experts to hunt and to use them.

It is probably the best-organized man-hunt which has taken place in California. In years, and the largest number of counties have been enlisted in it.

Unusual danger is incurred by each member of the searching party. They had to assist them in escaping. Modern tools for removing steel bars were passed to them and on the night of the 2nd inst. they sawed through the bars of their bands and coats were used to deaden the sound. The delivery was not discovered until early the next morning.

Since then Sheriff McFadden has given but few hours to sleep. With him the capture of the escaped prisoners is a matter of pride. His offer of reward for their arrest and scattered throughout the State circuits giving their description.

The officer was satisfied that the men had taken to the mountains, but had no idea of their exact location until word came to him Monday that Hodnutt was seen at Pozo. Supervisor, with Deputies Alexander and Fryer, left Los Angeles Monday evening. They expect to fill their seven-passenger automobile with constables who will be picked up en route. Each sheriff will give a road map which approach the place where McFadden is certain the men are hiding.

FIREBREAK?

TRY TO BURN WAY OUT OF CITY JAIL?

PLANS to effect a daring jail-break under cover of a fire were frustrated shortly after 6 o'clock last night by vigilant and skeptical officers, who used the hose freely and called into service a fireman with a chemical tank.

The jail fire is one of the mysteries of the police department, and will probably remain such for a long time.

The first hint of a conflagration came when smoke began pouring out of a bolt slot or hole in the hollow iron girder which forms the doorway partition between the kitchen and the messroom. A hose was turned into this when Jailer Shand discovered it. Although water flowed into the pillar for several minutes, the smoke increased.

The prisoners became terror-stricken and ran about the place urging that they be liberated so that they might have a chance for their lives. When Assistant Jailer Bennett assured them that the concrete-and-iron material of which the jail is constructed could not be ignited, the inmates became quiet, but a few raised a disturbance which indicated that they wished to take full advantage of the occurrence. The hose turned its flood into the opening for nearly half an hour work leading into the jail corridor. The jailor was mystified by this time, and he called for a fireman with a chemical tank. Two men responded and the play of chemicals proved effective in a short time.

Unsatisfied with the soaking given the hidden fire, the jailor ordered that the soaking and drenching treatment should continue for a long time.

An investigation was conducted and the cellar was searched for a source of fire. The foundations of the pillar were examined and found hot, but there was no apparent source of draft or combustible material which could feed the flames.

It was found that no waste or wood pulp could have been placed in the pillar without the rearrangement of some person in the jail. The jailer figured that wood pulp or waste could not burn so long with water-pouring on it, and when he left was still mystified.

Prisoners acquainted with jail-breaks in other cities looked "wise" and had a theory. A member of the fire department advanced a simple solution. He says that if a prisoner obtained a quantity of oil and a piece of wood, and poured it into the hollow pillar after arranging to see that a match was dropped in when the jailer was not looking, it would have

HUMAN HEAD STUFFED.
Schoolboy Falls Off Wagon, Tears Scalp, and Wound is Filled With Hay and Dirt.

A living human head stuffed with hay and street sweepings was the unique object taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday. It belongs to Sigismund Harmon, No. 515 Wall street, a Russian schoolboy, 10 years of age.

The lad was stealing a ride on a wagon and fell off at the corner of Fifth and Olive streets. His head struck the pavement in such a peculiar way that, while the scalp was cut only about two inches, a quantity of hay and street sweepings were forced into the wound for several inches between the skull and the scalp. Assistant Police Surgeon Carter went "haying" for about half an hour before the wound was dressed, but when the job was finished Sigismund walked home, not much the worse for his experience.

FLEES SPIES WHO DOG HIM.

Austrian Political Refugee Seeks Snug Haven.

Officer of Imperial Guard Leaves Here Quietly.

Persecution Alleged Because He's of Hebrew Faith.

The long, strong arm of the Austrian government reached all the way to Los Angeles for a victim under circumstances similar to those connected with the famous Dreyfus case in France, in recent years. But the Jew in this latest sensational affair succeeded a few days ago in evading his pursuers just when they believed they could take him in charge and extradite him. Behind the general facts that have become semi-public in official circles, there is an interesting story of political intrigue connected with the court of Emperor Francis Joseph.

Within the year, three officers of the Imperial Guard stationed in the City of Cracow, which formerly was the capital of Poland, were suspected of treasonable conduct. It was charged that they had been selling secrets of the Austrian army to the Russian government and agents of the Czar were arrested not only in Cracow, but in other Dependencies of Austria, as well. Never arrests of officials of various station followed, creating a sensation that only the strictest orders of the Emperor permitted from becoming common scandal.

According to the story related by the officers in charge, the officers involved conspired to place all the blame upon him for no other reason than the fact he was of the Hebrew faith. This man, Francis Garth Datner, maintains that a strong sentiment is prevalent in Austrian army circles against the people of his race, and that the commandants of their stations tried to avail themselves of it. To avoid undue appearance of persecution, two associates of Datner in the Imperial Guards were also denounced.

MOTHER GIVES ALARM.

Intimation of what was in store for them was given to the three young men by Datner's mother, reputed to be one of the wealthiest women of the empire, and an extensive property holder in Cracow. Mrs. Datner was warned by an old admirer in Emperor Joseph's own household. The flight of the trio was predicted and announced. So it had become known that Attorneys Gerecht and Datner were considering the wisdom of companying Datner back to his homeland to fight his case for him. latter assured ample financial support to make the battle for his honor a success—when Datner informed him that the actions of the spies on behalf of the government officials immediately sought their arrest.

Through Europe and many other parts of the world the three soldiers traveled, always on the alert, and arrived at last in Paris, where a direct flight to this country had been prevented by the anticipatory actions of the Austrian officials, who took it for granted that New York would be guarding him.

"Still, he may have had good reason for disappearing as he has," said an attorney in the case, "though I am sure he is a confirmed defector in his heart. The fact that one of his companions has been taken into custody at Port Orford, however, may frightened him. However, from what I know of his case, Datner is in very much the same situation that Dreyfus found himself a few years ago in France."

BAFFLING.

FAIL TO SOLVE TRUNK MYSTERY

OWNERS DECLARE CONTENTS WORTH THOUSAND.

Reception is Taken from in Front of Natick House by Private Expressman, Who Delivers it to Mrs. Who Employed Him—Police and Detectives Cannot Find.

Mystery which baffles the police department and private detectives surrounds a trunk robbery at the Natick House, involving a loss placed $100. Following so closely upon recent robberies at leading hotels large sums of money and value jewelry, it is of special interest.

Hart Bros., proprietors of Natick, and also of the Roslyn, admit that they have failed to solve the mystery, and although they have detectives working night and day, evidence has been obtained that warrants making complaints.

The missing trunk was owned by T. Quintard, an interest of W. F. Van Dorn in L. C. Hart's.

Several days ago Quintard and Van Dorn registered at the Natick. Hart had been here several weeks connection with a theatrical manager who had negotiations for the sale of the W. F. Van Dorn on Grand avenue near Eighth street, concluded with the transfer of its place and the changing of its name. The Neilson, Quintard is not connected with it.

Early last week the men notified their bill collectors to pay up any amount due.

The implacable hostility of Andrews, Betkowski and O'Brien to any change was the rock that wrecked the craft of Earl. These three Councilmen stood together on the proposition that if any concession was made as to the rate increase, it would operate to discredit the whole job, and besides they were gained some popularity by their course.

The Mayor's morning conference discussed the proposal of the companies to raise rates 6 cents, with a maximum charge of 75 cents, which was the compromise Gregory offered in the Council when he predicted the referendum fight. The companies were represented by President Baurhuyte of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company and Power Company and Secretary C. H. Clegg of the Pacific Gas and Power Company.

The discussion was opened by the Mayor, who was in favor of the increase, but the Council was divided.

When the discussion was over, the Mayor and City Attorney, who had been the able legal minds of the Limner board and had been instrumental in securing the election of the Limner board, were present.

After the discussion, the Limner board was dissolved and the new board was elected.

AT THE CITY HALL.

ALARY CUT TO SAVE WOODBURY.

CIVIL RETALIATES BECAUSE ITS PET IS OUSTED.

Other Than Appoint Qualified Civil Service Supply Committee Reduces Reduction to Freeze Out Opponents—Takes Summary Action.

Notice showing how the Council's politics was furnished yesterday, the salary of the clerk Supply Committee was cut from $100 to $60.

This talk about the Good Government Council being composed of real men has been a grievous error. They are saints. And because they saints they cut down that same day just to get even with Guy W. Wade, book-keeper in the City Engineer's office, who qualified as clerk Supply Committee with an average of 91, while Roger A. Woodbury, the council's top representative, failed miserably to make it, getting an average of only 55, which includes an extraordinary credit.

Regarding that the Civil Service Commission would not stand for a "raid," that it would enforce its rules even if it let Woodbury out of his temporary job, the Council decided to place undesirable for any one.

There are two eligibles on the list made by the commission as Woodbury's successor—Wade and Arthur Lander—and the Council referred them to the Supply Committee yesterday.

The Supply Committee, yesterday, chose of the two Wade, the younger, and when he tried to do Haley's political bidding, it is said, friction arose between them. It now is stated that Clark is slated for the toboggan slide.

"I think," remarked Commissioner Cochran, "that a man who laughs in the face of a superior officer, if he did, would be dismissed. We must have discipline."

Haley is a son of Francis G. Haley, a member and apparently the whole works of the Humane Animal Commission. Clark was appointed superintendent by Commissioner Haley, and when he tried to do Haley's political bidding, it is said, friction arose between them. It now is stated that Clark is slated for the toboggan slide.

"He was told that he wanted the place with the pay reduced. He was told that he could have to say whether he had the appointment or not. He demurred at the cut in salary, saying that he had been examined for position paying $150. Williams and Koussi told him they had decided upon the salary and did not want to compromise him.

"I know this all the time Woodbury has been in there," protested the only answer was that the time came to make a cut.

He was given this morning his mind. At the gets made in the Engineers office, he will accept in all probability. Besides he assured him that it was not he would be appointed. What committee wants is to freeze out civil service eligible list by giving Woodbury the job. All the time he has been in the place there has been talk of cutting the salary. May 1 Civil Service Commission refused to pass a second requisition for Woodbury, and the Auditor has held up salary for May. The Auditor is in the opinion, but if it does, it will be in defense of the City Attorney's opinion. The objection to Wade is that he is the second requisition and defense standing, entitled him to his service standing, which his Council stood by its labor and decision, Woodbury, until the last minute and then retaliated by cutting the salary.

GREAT IS VAREY.

ALL DOUBT REMOVED. Doubt as to the efficiency of Police Inspector Varey was removed yesterday by Varey. His first report to the Council was read, not read and filed. It shows how active this pet of the good government administration has been of prosecuting men like Marshall, license fees and hotel-keeper lodgings-house keepers into the Court.

There were, quoted Varey, 173 lodging rooms delinquent April with unparalleled zeal, he reports, prosecuted seventy-three of them, total license money involved was in the whole 173. The seventy-three prosecuted many of them were $161 in fine.

A report showed that only 21 prosecutions were instituted and of these only three were lodging-houses. Varey reports that 473 delinquencies were "called upon" and forced to pay. Which is suggestive that Marshall, whose good government policy was not "forced to pay" until last day, over two months late, and he paid with his usual nonchalance.

Vanishing Mystery. The billboard ordinance is the vanishing mystery of the Council. It has disappeared, and when it comes back again it is kicked out again.

Yesterday it was kicked back to the Legislation Committee for another week. Betzouki seems to be about the only one who retains hope of its passage.

"Due Consideration."

Lissner's Board of Public Utilities complained because the Southern Pacific, answering a Lissner request for safety gates at Sixth and Alameda streets, said he programme will be changed from 70 to 60 degrees if the recommendation of Drs. Gibbons and Cole of the Board of Health, which was approved by that board yesterday, meets the sanction of the County and service committees, the gauntlet of various committees. Drs. Gibbons and Cole reported yesterday that the Los Angeles standard was above the average of cities of the country and that 60 degrees should be ordained in order to give a pure milk supply.

As to requiring the tuberculin test of dairy herds the two doctors reported that eventually this ought to be adopted but Dr. Cole said he was not convinced that affected cattle could transmit the disease to human beings. They also reported that the ordinance ought to be amended to give the milk inspectors greater latitude in condemning milk. They were convened as a committee and will meet with the City Attorney tomorrow to discuss the new ordinance.

The board also approved a new ordinance regulating barber shops. Dr. Clark said it met the approval of the Central Labor Union which is taken to mean that the unionists government board of health and perhaps have slipped a bug into the measure. It has some drastic portions but does not provide for an inspector which is the ultimate hope of the enemies of industrialism.

ALAMEDA SEWER.

NEW START IS MADE. A new start on the big Alameda-sewer, which is intended to carry off the stormwater of the watershed of the hills north of First street to Elysian Park and west of the river was made yesterday, when the Council adopted an ordinance of intention to construct it by the assessment district plan.

This improvement has been needed for many years, and would have been under construction now, perhaps completed, but the preceding Council adopted the policy of paying for all storm sewers out of the general fund, and rescinded all action.

The present Council has not subscribed to the plan, but what it will do when the question comes up square at it must when the final ordinance is considered is doubtful.

The new sewer is expected to cost about $300,000, but will be assessed over a large area benefited.

HALEY UNDER CLOUD.

CIVIL SERVICE THREATENS. After an informal inquiry yesterday, the Civil Service Commission decided that if Superintendent A. H. Clark will prefer charges against Edward P. Haley, an employee of the Humane Animal Commission, of intoxication, abuse of animals and disrespect to a superior officer, it will make an investigation. Clark said he would do so.

It was brought out by Superintendent Clark's statement that he dismissed Haley for being intoxicated, but that the Humane Animal Commission had been unable to prove his intoxication. Haley asserted he was not intoxicated. The commission had investigated the matter, he said, and recommended he be reinstated.

"He was not exonerated," declared Clark. "I let him out on May 5. On the following day I told him he must work and be careful of the horses. He had spoiled some of the horses so that the men could not work them. He laughed in my face, and I laid him off. His father sent him back to work and I told Haley sent him no work for him. Then he was given a vacation."

Commissioner Cochran elicited the fact from Haley that he drank, but he denied that he was an habitual drinker.

"I think," remarked Commissioner Cochran, "that a man who laughs in the face of a superior officer, if he did, would be dismissed. We must have discipline."

Haley is a son of Francis G. Haley, a member and apparently the whole works of the Humane Animal Commission. Clark was appointed superintendent by Commissioner Haley, and when he tried to do Haley's political bidding, it is said, friction arose between them. It now is stated that Clark is slated for the toboggan slide.

May 1 Civil Service Commission refused to pass a second requisition for Woodbury, and the Auditor has held up salary for May. The Auditor is in the opinion, but if it does, it will be in defense of the City Attorney's opinion. The objection to Wade is that he is the second requisition and defense standing, entitled him to his service standing, which his Council stood by its labor and decision, Woodbury, until the last minute and then retaliated by cutting the salary.

GREAT IS VAREY. ALL DOUBT REMOVED.

Doubt as to the efficiency of Police Inspector Varey was removed yesterday by Varey. His first report to the Council was read, not read and filed. It shows how active this pet of the good government administration has been of prosecuting men like Marshall, license fees and hotel-keeper lodgings-house keepers into the Court.

There were, quoted Varey, 173 lodging rooms delinquent April with unparalleled zeal, he reports, prosecuted seventy-three of them, total license money involved was in the whole 173. The seventy-three prosecuted many of them were $161 in fine.

A report showed that only 21 prosecutions were instituted and of these only three were lodging-houses. Varey reports that 473 delinquencies were "called upon" and forced to pay. Which is suggestive that Marshall, whose good government policy was not "forced to pay" until last day, over two months late, and he paid with his usual nonchalance.

programming will be given "due consideration." Of course one is just as deserving as the other.

PAVING SAN PEDRO STREET.

A space for double-car tracks will not be paved in San Pedro street, between Aliso and Fifth streets. The Council so ordered yesterday when the City Attorney advised that the decree may be pursued. It is expected that tracks will be put there as soon as the Council will grant a franchise, and the property owners, who just paid $500,000 to widen the street, do not want to pay for a strip of paving that must come up in a few months.

CITY HALL BREVITIES.

Another hearing on the girder-rail ordinance has been set for 11 o'clock next Tuesday morning by the Council. The Council has voted $600 as a reward for information that will lead to the capture of the murderers of Patrion David Brooks.

If any new fire-alarm boxes are purchased it will be out of next year's budget allowance of the Fire Commission, and the cost of the boxes will be $200 for 50 boxes was referred to the Budget Committee yesterday.

The Mayor's request for a "san" Fourth of July celebration was referred to the City Attorney for an opinion as to whether an appropriation of next year's funds may be made now.

T. Weissendanger has petitioned the Council for the construction of a tunnel on First street, between Hill and Fremont streets.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

MOTHER'S GOLD SPLITS FAMILY.

BROTHERS AND SISTER CONTEST FOR GUARDIANSHIP.

Invalid Parent Wheeled Into Court to Hear What Squabbling Children Had to Say About Her—Allegation Made That She Was "Doped" While at Hospital.

The management and guardianship of the property and person of Mrs. Caroline Huff, who resides at No. 919 South Flower street, was the high spot in an interesting case begun yesterday before Judge Rives. The testimony will be continued tomorrow.

The contention is shared by the children of Mrs. Huff—Adelle Donnell, wife of Dr. T. C. Donnell of Long Beach, on one side, and three sons, Stephen E. Huff, No. 727 West Eleventh street; W. A. Huff, Santa Ana, and C. S. Huff, Venice.

The petition of Mrs. Donnell asks for her appointment as guardian, while that of the three sons and brothers is that Stephen E. Huff, of this city, one of the brothers, be named for that responsible position.

Mrs. Huff is 65 years of age, and during the morning session of the court was brought into the courtroom in a wheel chair, to hear what her children said to her.

An original action was brought by the firm against Mrs. Huff, Daniel and Israel Rudman, Matilda Cohen and Jane Rosenberg, all of England. Now the American relatives join in the hunt, and it is a sore of hands-across-the-sea contest.

The allegations of the petition filed yesterday were similar to those contained in the first complaint, at that time it had been unsuccessfully instituted by his wife Julie Steinhardt, who died three days after the husband, being the sole beneficiary under his will, and herself making a will leaving everything to her relatives. It is alleged that Steinhardt in his lifetime, and often said he proposed caring for his relatives, and all of the contestants are joined with him by the tie of blood-brothers, nieces and nephews. Steinhardt was an English Jew and when he came to Los Angeles he had his name changed to Rudman.

BALLERINO HEIRS.

REFUSE TO PAY ATTORNEYS.

Two actions were taken in the Superior Court yesterday in relation to the collection of $15,000 attorney fees, to be due Smith, Miller & Phillips, from Mario Amparo Ballerino, widow of Bartolo Ballerino, and the other heirs of the dead "king" of the Red-light district.

An original action was brought by the firm against Mrs. Ballerino and the children, for the amount mentioned in connection with their employment by the defendants on July 11 of last year, to begin a contest of the will of Bartolo Ballerino. Then, after the contest was instituted by the estate, when the estate master was settled by friendly compromise and all concerned got what they imagined they were entitled to.

In Judge Moss's court yesterday the case of Smith, et al., against Mrs. Ballerino and the heirs was dismissed as a result of the filing of a writ of habeas corpus by the firm, and the heirs had refused to settle the claim for attorney fees, and that an action against them would be begun immediately.

Concurrent with this, there was filed in the Superior Court an action against Rachel E. De Fish, Fred and Joseph Ballerino, and Adela Ballerino Giovine and her husband, Lee Giovine, for the recovery of $40,000 for legal services performed in their behalf in regard to the contest affecting the will of Ballerino.

In the petition of Mrs. Donnell it is alleged that the mother has made a will bequeathing to Mrs. Ballerino the property. It also is alleged that H. B. Evans will be required to deliver for cancellation a certificate for $15,000 shares, of F. L. Hamilton, secretary, to be restrained from paying over the stock to the Bank and Trust Company, drawn by these officials. The contention is another phase of trouble that has been in evidence for some time in the courts.

INCUNITION SOUGHT. A wholesale injunction and restraining order is prayed for in a petition filed yesterday by W. H. Chowning and others, as plaintiffs and the Hamilton Oil and Gas Company of Los Angeles, a corporation, and having a dozen other defendants. It is sought that the injunction of $4,700 shares of stock to J. A. G. Hamilton be declared null and void, that H. B. Evans be required to deliver for cancellation a certificate for $15,000 shares, of F. L. Hamilton, secretary, to be restrained from paying over the stock to the Bank and Trust Company, drawn by these officials.

Concurrent with this, there was filed in the Superior Court an action against Rachel E. De Fish, Fred and Joseph Ballerino, and Adela Ballerino Giovine and her husband, Lee Giovine, for the recovery of $40,000 for legal services performed in their behalf in regard to the contest affecting the will of Ballerino.

INFORMATION FILED. Al Crawford will be arraigned in Judge Davis's court this morning on two informations, one alleging rape, the other felony.

QUADRUPLET CASE. MRS. SMITH ON DEFENSIVE. At the conclusion of the testimony for the State in the case against Catherine E. Smith, charged with child stealing, in Judge Davis's court yesterday, a motion was made by the attorneys representing Mrs. Smith that the court instruct the jury to acquit. The motion was denied. Richard Dunn, the first witness for the defense, testified that he had heard ladies complain say that her baby must be taken away and cared for by someone else.

The chief witness of the day was Mrs. Smith herself, but she did not progress far before the hour of adjournment. The old lady beamed benevolently upon the jury, and when she talked she looked straight into the face of every juror, and when she spoke her words evoked much interest in her testimony.

Judge Hutton yesterday started out to dig some information from Cordelia B. Grimes of Santa Monica, who was testifying in her complaint against Logan E. Grimes, asking for divorce on the ground of desertion. The witness stated that her husband remained at home with her during the winter, but left in the fall, and did not return until the spring. The boy, on the stand, declared he would like to be a member of the Grimes family.

On the opinion, those allegations amounted to nothing—if she had not spoken harshly to him about these matters. The woman insisted that she did not think they amounted to anything, and were scarcely worth talking about.

"Oh, well," said the court with a deprecatory wave of the hand. But the woman got her decree.

HUSBAND LIGHTS OUT.

WIFE GETS A DECREE.

"My husband left me while we were living at Lamanda Park; he sold his place for about $600, and told me one morning he was going out to get another home," said Mrs. Laura Webster, in Judge Hutton's court yesterday, in her action for divorce from Charles H. Webster.

"Did he buy the house," asked the court.

"He did not," said the wife. "I have not seen him since; that was in 1905."

Witnesses from Webster said he was not good," said the witness. "She lived in Pasadena for some years before her marriage and we thought she was an excellent cook and housewife." The decree was allowed.

WANTS TO FE FREE.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.
PICKETT BILL
NOW PLEASES.

Amended Form It Probably Will Become Law.

Gordon, Member of the Committee, Back Home.

Local News of Interest from Oil Fields.

Gordon, a member of the committee of oil men that went to Washington a month ago to watch legislation affecting oil land withdrawals, returned to the city Monday. Mr. Gordon, secretary of the American Mid-West Oil Company, and was called away on urgent business. T. A. Reid is the only member of the Senate Oil Men's Committee left in Washington's capital, but he is a host himself.

Mostly the committee numbered a dozen oil men, but they have struggled back for some time now and only one is left. Mr. Gordon said that the committee did much and if the members had not gone Washington the Pickett bill in its form would now be a law. The committee had interviews with all of the members of Congress, and received with much courtesy.

They also called upon President Taft, who was assured by him that he did not want anything done that would be injurious to the oil industry of California.

The bill in its amended form was passed favorably by the Senate Committee of the Senate, and was being considered by the Senate. After it passes the Senate will be taken up by the Senate House conference.

It is a small bill and if it becomes a law will probably supersede the original bill.

In Washington, Mr. Gordon figures to show that there has been expended by California oil companies $100,000 on land covered by President's original withdrawal.

This would have been lost in the bill in its original form, but it became known that either the bill, in its amended form, or passed or there would be no oil at all, the members of the wired home to get express news of the matter. They received telegrams asking for the Pickett bill as it now stands.

THE AMENDED BILL.

Amended Pickett bill reads as follows:

"The President may, at any time, by proclamation, temporarily withdraw any lands, location, sale or lease of the public lands of the state and reserve the same for mineral and other purposes, including irrigation, claim to be specified in the orders of withdrawal by him, or by the act of Congress."

That all lands withdrawn under this act shall be open to exploration, development and purchase under the laws of the United States in the same apply to minerals and oil, gas and shale.

Provided, that the rights of any person who at the time of any withdrawal hereof or before the passage of such act, in a bona fide occupant or owner of oil or gas-bearing lands, at such date, in diligent work leading to success, and by such order as long as his claim or claimant shall consent, prosecution of said provided further, that this shall not be construed as a recognition or enlargement of any right or claim to land oil and gas-bearing lands after withdrawal of such lands made by the passage of such act.

That the Secretary of the Interior shall report all such withdrawn lands to Congress at the beginning of each regular session after the withdrawal.

DRIVERS GOOD REPORTS.

CONSOLIDATED MIDWAY.

Consolidated Midway Oil Company is enthusiastic over a report received yesterday from Managing Director, regarding the work on properties. Mr. Willett said the flowing well adjoining the new well is the wonder of the field. In section 30, Midway, the drill is down 1915 feet, and at the finishing of progress will be 2000 feet. A ground has been passed at least, the logs of the Lake-Eskew wells indicate that it will be finished within three months, and that a gusher will be the record drilling for far ahead of Lakewood, which was spudded in two years ago. On section 15 is about 1200 feet, and on section 20, the Easkey, has been finished. The Easkey, coming just brought in the big blow, which proves the 22 ground.

EMIDIO COUNTRY.

SECTION OF SUNSET.

President H. J. Bender of the Union reported to the company that he has the derrick up, in section 28, 32-24, and on the rig. Besides the new, he has a force of men working on the well. The well will be ready next week. During the company's San Emidio superintendence, the superintendent reports the district is proving to be an oil field, as Ralph L. Weller, the Western Midway company has obtained oil at 1200 feet high grade that it is the best drilling machinery with whatever.

NEAR REDONDO.

ARE SURPRISES AGAIN.

Orlando F. Altore, convicted of perjury in the United States District Court, last week, was taken before Judge Wellborn yesterday upon the assumption that his aged mother was in the courtroom. But, much to the surprise of the government attorneys, the former postoffice clerk elected to wait until Monday next before pronouncing what sentence is to be imposed. It is not believed that any appeal will be taken.

writes from Chicago that he has about concluded his business trip in the East, and will return to Los Angeles in a few days. In all the large cities he visited he found that great interest was being taken in the California oil industry, and this was especially noticeable in New York and Cleveland, where the newspaper men were eagerly scanned for reports from the field.

Sale of Union Stock.

Circulars are out stating that the treasury stock of the Union Oil Company will be offered to stockholders of that company and of the United Petroleum and Gas Union, a recent competitor company, at $100 a share. The stock is to be sold to meet the demands of increasing business, such as extra tankage, new pipe line facilities and other things. Certain inducements are offered to the present stockholders.

TRAP OF POLICE GETS ONLY ONE.

BURGLAR GANG HAS WAGON AND THREE ESCAPE.

Mexican Faces Police Judge as Result of Member of Crowd Advising Detectives That Tailor's Establishment Was to Be Robbed—Thirteen Speeders Pay Fines.

José Rosa, caught by detectives at an early hour yesterday morning while with three other men, he was preparing to burglarize the store of M. Langenberg, merchant tailor of No. 1445 San Fernando street, was arraigned before Justice Chambers yesterday and his hearing set for the 17th inst., at 10 o'clock.

The gang was provided with a wagon and was ready to haul away a large quantity of the stock of the tailor, who carries a $10,000 line of goods for police, fire and railroad uniforms. But when Rosa entered the store, he walked into a carefully prepared police trap.

A couple of days ago, Rosa called on a downtown tailor and offered a bargain in fine cloth if the tailor would talk about his work. The offer was accepted, but when Rosa said he would deliver the stuff at 10 o'clock in the morning, the tailor became suspicious and informed the police. The same day, a Mexican who was to have been in on the job became frightened and he also informed the police, so that the detectives knew the exact place and hour the gang proposed to begin operations.

Rosa was taken after a fight, but the other three escaped by flight. He is held on the charge of having burglar's tools in his possession, a full line of these having been found on him.

SPEEDERS PAY FINES.

BENCH WARRANT FOR ONE.

Thirteen violators of the speed ordinance faced Justice Chambers in the Police Court yesterday morning, all of them arrested the day before on the Grand avenue hill where they were giving automobile demonstrations. Each pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $50.

Three minors, D. J. Johnson and J. Ricard, both of them, the police said, were making thirty miles an hour or more on motorcycles, and Dan Parkinson, who was driving a Hudson car, with whom the cars they were driving were R. Anthony, a general; J. E. Brown, Cadillac; E. S. McCurdy, Grider-Lewis; L. E. Smith, a motorcycle; R. Ampler, a Mitchell car; F. O. Johnson, a Stoddard-Dayton; G. M. Grant, a motorcycle; Alton Vaille, a Stoddard-Dayton, and B. Woolwine, a Humobile.

Woolwine was the most cheerful of the defendants. He told the car that caused his arrest and smiled as he paid his fine.

Pratt, the last man arrested that afternoon, failed to appear when his name was called and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Pratt was driving a Thomas car when he rode into the trap laid by the police, and he protested that his car was geared so that it could not make more than fourteen miles an hour.

Third Victim of Horses.

E. H. Lakin, in the Police Court yesterday, figured as the successful man in a horse trade that would have made David Harum pale with envy. Lakin is proprietor of the Ben Hur Creamery, 119 South Main street. Last April, he and his driver, John Sims, were arrested for driving an badly spained horse. Lakin paid a $10 fine, and Sims was fined $5, and the horse was condemned for street use. James E. Bowen of No. 111 West Tenth street was brought into court yesterday by the S.P.C.A. for driving a badly spained horse. The horse was the one for which Lakin had been fined and it was learned that he had traded it to Bowen for a motorcycle. Bowen was fined $10 and the horse was ordered released. Lakin escaped prosecution through a defect in the complaint.

Wife-Beater Sentenced.

Edgar T. Blake, the carpenter who was arrested Saturday for beating his paralytic wife, was given ninety-day suspended sentence yesterday by Justice Chambers in the Police Court.

Trial of Negress Fixed.

Lillie Trammell, the negro who shot her husband, George Trammell, a Southern Pacific dining-car cook, at Ceres and Eighth streets last Thursday morning, was arraigned in Justice Chambers' court yesterday morning charged with attempted murder, was fixed for the 21st inst., at 10 o'clock. The wounded man is at the Crocker-street Hospital, where he is reported to be recovering nicely. He was shot in the back, and again in the head, this bullet imbedding itself in the bone of the face.

Desperado Just Grins.

Frank Johnson, alias Manuel Sepulveda, the Mexican who was arrested in the store of the Crown Jewelry Company, No. 415 South Spring street, while looting the place, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Frederic K. Johnson only smitten when the jewelry found in his pockets was identified as the property of the store and he maintained an attitude of the absolute indifference throughout the hearing, only failing to do so when he heard the story of his fight with Sergeant Hartmeyer who captured him.

In Berry Time—That's Now!

A delicious dessert and one which is very easy to make is strawberry tapioca. Cook four tablespoonsfuls of instant tapioca in two cups of water with one cupful of sugar and one teaspoonful of butter, until clear. Wash and hull strawberries, cut each berry in half, sprinkle over with sugar, let marinate in their juice one-half hour. When tapioca is ready stir this puree through the tapioca without cooking. When cold set to chill in ice chest.

"Will you let us sit beside you?" asked the young lady deprecatingly.

She was wearing a shiny black silk skirt of about the year '40, a polonaise of somewhat later date, the color a queer green, her hat was one of those old-fashioned, horrid mantillas, with stringy feathers in light blue and pink standing out in several directions. She wore wide-button gloves of brown leather and her sleeves were of that length between elbow and long, so that there was a bare stretch between them and the gloves, and she wore a big coral ring on the outside of one of the fingers of the gloves. As a "finishing touch," she had a salmon pink "shawl" draped awkwardly around her shoulders.

The young man, her escort, wore corduroy trousers of tan, white canvas shoes, blue overgarters, a dress coat, of the time of George Washington or thereabouts, a scarlet waistcoat, purple necktie, and a "skirt tie."

"I'd hate to try to guess what date.

After I had "taken them all in," laughed and laughed again, they explained that they were en route to a "tacky dinner party," in the neighborhood. "You'll surely take the young man," I said.

I learned afterward that the dinner was served in the most "tacky" style.

There was a turkey red table cloth, blue napkins, pink geraniums for a centerpiece, placed upon a lace cover over the yellow cloth. The chairs were all clashed, and the colors quarreled; and while the food was palatable, it was served in backwoods style, the butter being passed for every one to dip into, and other dishes the same. The last course, however, was served in the most appetizing manner, the fabricators of the table decoration were removed, to be replaced by the finest of ware and flowers most rare, from the individual greenhouse of the hosts.

Surf Time.

A window full of bathing suits, at one of the large Broadway stores, reminds us that the time is at hand for the beach and its pleasures.

Time will when everybody looks a bit more trim, but now all that is changed. One may look as well in the surf, and afterward upon the sand, as when walking down Broadway. For instance, there is the latest in headwear, the Turkish turban made in a bathing cap, finished in the ostrich skin, and as becoming as ever it can be.

Then in bathing suits there is the new one-piece affair, perfect in shape, and so arranged with an adjustable belt, that it can be fitted to any form. The fashion of its box plait adds to the beauty, and the belt not only conceals the surplus of the lady of whom there is too much. You simply step into the multiple garment, fasten four buttons, and there you are! Trim and neat and with no fear of dislocation of any of the parts, and the suit, when once in comfort in the supposed motion is inseparable. The garment has a clever name, given it by the lady who is at the head of the manufacture, and who owns the patent. An actress who had heard of the garment came in recently, and asked for one of the "new 'one-piece'" bathing suits—this name being as far as possible away from the real name of it.

This is another product of Los Angeles, where, as you will hear the dialoyal remark, "there is nothing manufactured." This fabric in which the suits are made is clean, light and sanitary, and moreover the woman at its head practices the most fair treatment of all the girls who work there. This is something which other women should care for and encourage, I believe.

Many of the colleges and schools have adopted this convenient suit, which is made in a pattern for gymnasium work and for athletics, and the emblems of the institution are used as ornamentation. A suit for beach wear for little children is ideal.

It is pretty, with its bright colored embroidery, and the elastic belt may be used for several seasons, however fast the little one may grow.

who was wanted recently in San Diego for a flight in high finance. She is alleged to have raised a check for $5 so that it read $50. The absentminded twists of the pen which changed the check were not forgotten by the San Diego police, however, and his complaint caused pictures and a description of her to be sent to various police departments. Patrolman Watson, student of physiognomy, took a mental print of the portrait and waited for Miss Mallard.

While he was watching and waiting, she found that her position as a hundred-dollar-a-month housekeeper had been increased to two hundred dollars a month. A hundred-dollar windfall made it possible for her to return to San Diego and settle. Later she came back.

Physiognomist Watson did not know about the "settling" proposition. He remembered that face. Last night he took the protecting woman to the Central Police Station and identified her as the right woman. There were hints of a San Diego reward, but the officer referred modestly to "simply doin' mah duty."

A talk with the San Diego police, by long-distance telephone, brought out the information that the warrant against Miss Mallard had been withdrawn. She was released and admitted that "Misiah Watson has a good memory for faces, but he is no gent foh to pinch a lady what is squared."

CHOOSES MOTHER.

WARRING COUPLE TAKES BOY EAST

PARENTS RIDE IN DIFFERENT CARS, HOWEVER.

Father Who Objects to Being Called Kidnaper, Advises Wife of His Intentions and Scene Follows at Arcade Station and Ends in Police Captain's Office.

Lloyd Brigham, the 3-year-old boy whose mother, believing he had been kidnapped by his father, appealed to the police Monday night to find him, is on his way to Massachusetts with both of his parents, although Jesse W. Brigham and his wife, Olive E., are not riding in the same car and their divorce suit is still pending.

The child was found through newspaper publicity. Brigham could not stand to be called a kidnaper in the public prints, and he promptly called up his wife to give her a piece of his mind. Mrs. Brigham also had a few things to say, and in the conversation she learned that Brigham was preparing to leave the city for the East. She rushed to the Southern Pacific station and there found the boy with his father, who had already bought a ticket for a point in Massachusetts on a permanent berth, intending to leave Los Angeles at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The meeting between husband and wife was stormy. The argument became so noisy that Patrolman Daniels, passing by, was moved to take the entire family, together with a few women friends of Mrs. Brigham, to the Police Station.

Family troubles were aired before Capt. Dixon, whom both sides sought to win over.

"That man has beaten me several times and I filed suit for divorce against him on May 14," cried Mrs. Brigham. "I should have my child."

Brigham's report was not so vehement. He quietly pointed out he signed "Olive" which he said had been written by Mrs. Brigham to his sister.

In this letter, the writer declared her intention of going to Long Beach with the child and "jump over the falls."

"I don't have to answer any such questions," was all Mrs. Brigham would say when she was asked what she meant by the "falling Long Beach." She would not say whether she had written the letter, but her husband said he was afraid that, in a fit of despondency, she would harm both herself and the boy.

The police captain suggested that the boy be turned over to the father until a divorce suit was settled, but Lloyd had no idea about this and clung closer to his mother. Mrs. Brigham, who was also contemplating a trip to her old home in Massachusetts, was finally persuaded to leave at the same time as her husband, but she declared that, although riding on the same train, she would not travel in the same car.

TRAIN KILLS BABY.

Anxious Mother Discovers Child's Body, With Skull Crushed, Lying Beside Railroad Track.

Pearl Rosso, the fifteen-months-old daughter of Natalie Rosso, a West Glendale vineyardist, was struck by a train and instantly killed at 7:20 o'clock yesterday morning while playing on the Southern Pacific track near the home of her parents.

The baby was just beginning to walk and her parents watched her closely, in fear of the train that ran so near the house along the San Fernando road. But yesterday morning Mrs. Rosso, who was busy about the house and the child took advantage of this to make his first venture outside. The gate was open and the little truant wandered onto the railroad track.

A little while later Mrs. Rosso became uneasy and went in search of her baby. She found the little girl a corpse beaten to right of way in the middle of the Sepulveda place. The child's skull had been crushed. The Santa Barbara train had struck the baby and tossed her aside.

There is a heavy grade at this point and it is thought that the engineer and fireman were busily engaged in getting away when they passed through West Glendale and did not see the infant.

The Coroner was notified and he ordered the body sent to the Fullum undertaking parlor in Glendale.

"CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE."

Coroner's Jury Finds It in Case of the Young Chauffeur Fatally Injured by Trolley Car.

"Contributory negligence," was the verdict rendered by the Coroner's jury yesterday in the case of Harry Norfolk, the young chauffeur who died Saturday at the California Hospital from injuries sustained in a collision with a Bimini Bath car opposite the Westlake Garage. The jury found that the railway company was also at fault.

Norfolk, 21 years of age, was employed as a chauffeur by Miss Helen Mathewson, the proprietor of the Hershey Arms Hotel. He had taken her for a morning ride and was returning to the hotel when he was caught between two cars going in opposite directions. While trying to avoid the car approaching in front by making a quick turn over the tracks, his automobile was struck full in the side by the other car, coming up behind him. He was tossed into the air and fell on his head, sustaining fatal injuries.

The guarantee we give in writing on the Fitzgerald Club Piano is as strong as words can make it Almost any piano can muster up a guarantee of some sort. Some pretty poor pianos sometimes are backed up by fairly good guarantees, while on the other hand some mighty good pianos are handicapped by poor guarantees. But almost without exception, all guarantees are vague and misleading. There are a whole lot of "ifs" and "ands" in them.

One guarantee will read "If there is the presence of rust, it is an evidence that the piano has been exposed to dampness," etc., etc.

Another reads, "If the varnish cracks or checks it is due to climatic conditions over which we have no control," etc., etc., and so on through them all. It is "if" this and "if" that, until a great host of piano guarantees mean absolutely nothing.

The thing to do when buying a piano is, first, to look to the reliability of the house with which you are dealing and then to look at the reputation of the piano itself. With these 500 Fitzgerald Club Pianos we ourselves guarantee them. We are the sponsors for them.

These Pianos Are Shown in Three Style Cases—and Each Style Is Shown in Three Woods—Mahogany, Walnut and Quartered Oak.

We have gotten up the strongest guarantee we know how to make. If the English language can make one stronger, we are willing to sign it. We have eliminated every "if" and every "doubt." The language of the guarantee is the spirit of it, which is to give each and every person who purchases one of these fine pianos positive and absolute protection. We print herewith a copy of the guarantee which is handed to each and every club member in writing the moment they join the club. Can you think of or suggest a guarantee that will be stronger?

Fitzgerald Club Piano Ten Year Guarantee

We guarantee Fitzgerald Club Piano (No.) to be free from defective material or workmanship for the period of ten years from date. Should same arise within that time, we agree to repair it or replace it if necessary with a new instrument without charge, upon its return to us.

(Signed) FITZGERALD MUSIC CO.

Let us again impress you with the fact that these pianos are worth $375 each, but the Club price is $277.50

Literally scores of these instruments have been sold right here in Los Angeles and vicinity at $375. Hundreds are being sold every month all over the United States at $375. They are worth $375. Measured by any standard of value you wish, they are worth $375. They are worth it on our floors, or on the floors of any reputable piano dealer in the country. The Fitzgerald Club price is $277.50. The price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. No interest to be added. Nothing to be added for drayage, stool—absolutely no extras. The Times, No. 28, Raymond Ave.
PASADENA, June 8.—The largest ever graduated from Throop Normal School diplomas last night at the hands of President Scherer following the most interesting graduation ever held by that institution. The open-house was crowded. It was furnished by Earle's Orches, invocation by Dr. J. G. Blue, songs from the Institute by Dr. C. E. Durrell, principal; address of the evening by Dr. E. A. Dean of McClay College of Law, subject "Opportunity."

presenting the graduating class their diplomas Dr. Scherer said: "congratulate you on the fact that all know how to work. Every man being either a worker or a scholar; either a contributor to the world through brain or muscle, or an idle waster of what we think is a better word riches." A wise man has said that there is a mere surplus on the shelf; in abundance in use. Were it not for the workers who could and find the shelf bare, we have no right to exist. Even now know this: once every year, my love, there is a massacre of us who do not advocate massacres; but I labor in the growing mob of those who dare on American soil, to see how the time has gone for me to work. The time has gone for me to work in literature or other profession. If America keep industrial pace with Germany, for example, we must be more industrialists. Look upon these men who receive tonight as mere marks of admission to higher training in the schools of scientific Then you will enter the school.

I trust that there you may not be so much by the "goat" of wealth as by the "goat" of work makes wealth. All of us are here, but we ought also to be here merely get, but chiefly my laborers were a rule. In the life, put to use the Golden measures your body by the action of His Kingdom, and rules he offers you—"All things however you would that man should do, ye do even so to them." wish you no higher wealth than work with him.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The directors of the Board of Trade held a long meeting last night and discussed many important matters. The first taken up was the proposed big Fourth of July celebration in Pasadena. Many kinds of celebrations were discussed. The directors are all in favor of having a committee consisting of W. D. Davis, L. H. Turner, William Thum and A. J. Bertoneau to report the most feasible plan within a few days.

An Entertainment Committee was appointed to look after the members of the American Institute of Homeopathy, which will hold its annual convention in Pasadena for one week beginning July 10. It consists of ten members, with E. H. Greenway as president.

W. H. Clapp, United States Hydrographer, City Engineer and Van Ornum and Judge McGee met the directors and explained many important matters connected with the available water supply for the city. The new board is determined to solve the vexatious water question, if possible.

THE EASIEST WAY.

Following two long star-chamber sessions yesterday, the City Council finally agreed to buy the Warrenite mixture from the original Warren Brothers Company of Boston for use in paving North Raymond avenue from Chestnut street to Orange Grove avenue. The fight over the patented street paving invented by Warren between the contractors and city of most prominent cities of the country. J. Perry Wood, City Attorney, gave the matter much attention. He thoroughly investigated the patents and the various sides of the case. After giving his opinion to the City Council stating that the patents of Warren Bros. are not valid and the city can go ahead and use them without being compelled to purchase the mixture from that company or pay a royalty. In view of this opinion, the City Council figured out that the easiest way out of the whole controversy is to make a contract with the Warren Brothers Company to buy the paving mixture which is used to asphalt the new bridge will cost approximately $10,000 worth of bonds to pay the city's share of the great proposed Arroyo Seco bridge which will connect this city with Los Angeles.

The total vote cast was 587, with 547 in favor of the bonds, 33 against, 3 blanks and 4 spoiled ballots, making it almost unanimous in favor of the big bridge. The vote is considered very heavy because there is only a registration of 1100 and at the last municipal election, when politics were at a fever heat, there were only 761 votes cast.

ORGAN RECITAL.

An organ recital was given last night on the handsome $7500 pipe organ at the new Christian Church by Franklin Cleverly of Denver. He was assisted by Mrs. Richard S. Persons and Arthur Waters, soloists. An audience of 1400 people listened to the programme. This organ is the most costly in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Stone attended the funeral of Mrs. Ralph E. Swinney, San Bernardino. As Miss Harris, before her marriage, Mrs. Swinney, who was a cousin of Mrs. Stone, had numerous friends here, where she had often visited. Mrs. Swinney at one time attended Pomona College.

Everybody is happy tonight because the new bridge means much to the city. It will attract a great amount of through travel which is now going to Los Angeles via other routes.

The new bridge will cost approximately $10,000 worth of bonds to pay the city's share of the great proposed Arroyo Seco bridge which will connect the Lake Railroad, wagon roads and foot walks and be wide enough and strong enough to accommodate a great amount of travel.

The bridge will be paid for equally by the city of Pasadena, Salt Lake Railroad, County Supervisor and city of Los Angeles. The only bond issued before the bridge was built was $100,000 worth of bonds to pay the city's share of the great proposed Arroyo Seco bridge which will connect the Lake Railroad, wagon roads and foot walks and be wide enough and strong enough to accommodate a great amount of travel.

The bond boosters were particularly active in working for the issue. One of their "stunts" which commanded attention was a farce "Howards proposal" to give five cents to chase the 1500 dogs in Pasadena and kill them off," asked he. "Whenever you get a law that is reasonable and one that will do the business, I will vote for it." Root Kofford, supervisor and officials of the railroad, have all signed their willingness to go ahead.

Yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Filley, Mr. Wilbur F. aged two years. The funeral service will be held at the residence, corner of Rollins and Wayne street, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be made at Oakwood Cemetery.

WILL OBTAIN BIDS.

On recommendation of Trustees Vatcher, chairman of the Streets Committee, the Street Superintendents have been instructed to obtain bids for 500 feet of two-inch pipe and 355 feet of one-and-one-half inches. They will erect a plant in Pasadena and deliver the "dope" to the paving contractors.

DOG OWNERS GLAD.

The dog muzzling ordinance failed to become a law at its second reading before the City Council yesterday. There were only five votes in favor of the proposal, while six were against it. The bond boosters, however, stated that it is criminal to muzzle dogs and he does not believe there are any mad dogs in California. He states the experts do not know what they are talking about. Cattell stated the proposal is a farce. "However, we have enough money to chase the 1500 dogs in Pasadena and kill them off," asked he. "Whenever you get a law that is reasonable and one that will do the business, I will vote for it." Root Kofford, supervisor and officials of the railroad, have all signed their willingness to go ahead.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral services of Mrs. Lester R. Severs, No. 1517 Fair Oaks avenue, were held yesterday morning at All Saints Episcopal Church, Pasadena. Temporary repose of the remains will be in the vault before being shipped to New York, her former home.

CAR STRIKES AUTO.

Now that the city has about concluded the necessary details for the opening of new and open French boulevard through Sawtelle, the ocean on the west, plans are developing for the promised opening of the highway from the city limits on the east direct to Los Angeles. Last night the City Council named a committee for the purpose of taking the matter up with the city of Sawtelle, for a road toward the latter, to be known as the County Supervisors, to continue the highway from Sawtelle to connect with an automobile way out of the city on an air line to the sea. This committee consists of Messrs. Griffin, Snyder and Bailey on the part of the County and Mr. Miller, F. E. Bundy and C. F. Schader.

HUNTINGTON HEIGHTS.

Unless present plane fall, Wright & Calfee of Los Angeles expect within ten days to conclude negotiations and receive a lease to Huntington Heights, the slightly tract lying high on the palisades at the mouth of Santa Monica Cañon. This property belonged originally to Collis P. Huntington of the harbor development, had Santa Monica secured the government breakwater. Later it passed into the hands of H. E. Huntington, who still owns
